

Placeholder

Placeholder is designed for two players. It requires a 4x4 board and a set of nine colored tokens for each player, each set being a different color.

Setting up:

Decide which player goes first.

How to play:

On your turn, you may place one of your tokens on any unoccupied space on the board. If there is an opposing token within one space of one of your own tokens and the space on the other side of the opposing token is unoccupied, you may instead move your token to the unoccupied space and remove the opposing token from the board.

Winning the game:

If you end your turn with three of your tokens in a row or with no unoccupied spaces on the board, you win.
